READ THE CARDS RIGHT. Policeman Detected by Fortune Teller Promptly Arrests Her.

FAn advertisement appeared in a German newspaper that Mina Brown would tell fortunes at 321 East Seventy-eighth street. Detective McGuire of the East Sixty-seventh street station went there and asked to have his fortune told. "Cross my palm with silver," is what he declares the fortune teller said. He put half a dollar in her hand. She shuffled a pack of cards and began to prophesy. "You are going to cross water and a dark haired woman comes into your life.

You are going to meet with great success in recovering stolen property. "Good! I'll get to Headquarters if that comes true," exclaimed the sleuth. "What's that you say about headquarters?" asked the startled fortune teller. "I said fine things seem to be coming my way."

I think you're a policeman," ventured the woman.

"That part of the fortune telling is true.
anyway, said the detective as he arrested
her. He arraigned her in the Yorkville police court yesterday and Magistrate Flammer held her in $500 bail for trial.

Navy Yard News.

Capt. Louis Moltez, commander of the French cruiser Froude, now lying in the North River, visited the navy yard in Brooklyn yesterday and called upon Rear Admiral Coghlan.

A new floeting target was launched at the navy yard in Brooklyn yesterday. It is box shaped, 12 feet wide and 32 feet long, and is made of steel plates. It will be used as a target for forts and ships. $100 REWARD for return of dark blue enameled watch with jeweled pendant lost Friday on 57th or 58th street between 6th and 7th aves. 169 West 57th st.
